

Lee Kam Goes on Education Excursions!

P6 Education Excursion

By Audrey Chan (6D) and Kimberley Tam (6D)

From 15th February until 17th February, Lee Kam Primary students went on an education excursion. P6 students went to Sai Kung. They went there by bus, and after one hour, they arrived. They were excited because they checked into their rooms, and they were beautiful and big. The students started to think of what they might like to do at night.

After dinner, they started an exciting game called “Finding Treasure”. They had to find some brown coloured cards with some words and pictures on them. The words told students where to find the card in each place. When students found one card, it would tell them about the next place to look. It was difficult to find the cards because it was raining! Many students got a cold, and some of them had a fever too. Some had to go home or go to the hospital by ambulance!

After the students had a bath, they didn't sleep. Some P6 students didn't want to sleep at night because they wanted to play with their classmates, and this would be their last education excursion trip in primary school. Some played UNO. Some talked together, and some played video games. However, at last they slept because they were afraid the teachers would get angry.

The next day, the students got up early. They did exercise before they had breakfast. Next, they went out to learn something about Sai Kung. That helped them to do their projects. It was interesting because they

P5 Education Excursion in Fanling

By Carman Or (5A) and Ronica Yau (5B)

P5 students went to Hong Kong Baptist Assembly from the 15th to 17th of February. It was fun for the students because they did many activities there, like using paper to make a bridge and putting some soft drinks on top of it. The name of this game is Soft Drink Bridge. If the bridge could hold 8 cans of soft drinks, the students could take them off and drink them. There were also other games to play, like basketball, table tennis, chess and badminton.

Students were there for three days and two nights. They had to wake up at seven o'clock in the morning and went to sleep at eleven o'clock. They were very tired, but they wanted to stay awake and have fun. Some people did not sleep, but were still very spirited, but some people got sick at camp. The students were very sad that some got sick.

Spring Holiday Edition

We Love Easter!

By Fiona Fung (5C) and Crystal Wan (5A)

Easter was on the 9th of April. Before this festival, there is a day called “Good Friday” and it is always on a Friday. On Easter, children draw painted pictures on eggs. The children also paint on the eggs. After that, they will eat them.

Easter is a festival about God and spring time. Once upon a time, there was a man called Jesus. He was God’s son and was born on Christmas. When he grew up, he liked to help people very much. The people thought that he was very helpful and friendly, but some bad people found out about Jesus, and they didn’t think he was helpful. They wanted to kill Jesus because they hated him very much. The bad people used every bad thing they could to hurt Jesus. One day on a Friday, they took Jesus to a cross and nailed him on it. Jesus was getting weaker and weaker. At last, he died, but a few days later, he was resurrected. He woke up, saw his friends and went to heaven. People in the town were surprised. That is why people celebrate this and call it Easter!

Today, people and children get Easter gifts on Easter. They draw bunnies on eggs. They decorate the wrapping on chocolate eggs to make it beautiful. They also have Easter egg hunts! It is a fun holiday.

Tomb Sweeping Day

Rapheal Sin (5B) and Yoyo Wong (4C)

On 5th April is the Tomb Sweeping Day. Most people in Hong Kong will go to the cemetery to pray and bow. It is a good festival for Hong Kong people. If we don’t have this festival, Hong Kong people will not have time to visit family because Hong Kong people work and work. When they finish work, they go home and sleep, so they don’t have time to visit dead family members. When people in the family die, we miss him/her, so we should visit them just like Liu Pang.

A long time ago, there was a person named Liu Pang, and he was a king. Before this time, he was not a king and left home to work. He worked hard and became king, but Liu Pang’s mum did not live with him so she didn’t know. He wanted to tell his mum he was now a king, but he didn’t know his mother was already dead. When he arrived to where his mother lived, he found out his mother died on 5th April. Liu Pang bowed and paid his respects to his mother, and he did this every 5th April. This is why he decided that 5th April is the day to visit dead family, and so we have Tomb Sweeping Day!

P4 Students Go on Education Excursion

By Henry Tsang (4C) and Ting Lai (4B)

On 15th-17th February, P4 students went to Tso Kung Tam Outdoor Recreation Centre to go on the education excursion. They played tennis, mini golf, badminton and went climbing. Students were excited to play with their friends.

At night, some students couldn't sleep, so they talked together. The next morning, their breakfast was delicious. There was sausage, ham, macaroni and jam with bread. They thought the food was really good, so they all ate and ate, but they hated the vegetables.

On the last night, the students could finally sleep. Also, Miss Tsang let them buy souvenirs. They bought some toys and torches there. They were all smiling because they felt happy and would always remember this place. In the end, they went back to school, but they really wanted to go home. They had fun.

Kammy in 4B said, "I felt happy!"

On the last day, something funny happened. The students were playing games together, and when they were ready to come back to school, one teacher said, "Who lost this colourful shoe?" No one answered, so the teacher told all of us who were wearing colourful shoes to line up and check the shoe size. At last, the very last boy in line said, "I lost the shoe. This shoe is mine. Can you give it back to me?"

The teacher said, "Ok! Now, we can go back to school!" All the children in the camp laughed at this silly boy and were happy to go home.

Miss Chan

By Jessica To (5B) and Sam Wong (6D)

Miss Chan teaches us Chinese and Maths lessons. She is a class teacher in P1. She always punishes students when they are naughty and speaks loudly in the lessons, but we like her. Sometimes we want a teacher to punish us when we are naughty because we can learn more.

For example, one day when we were having the Maths lesson, Miss Chan told us to cut the paper into many shapes. One student was cutting the paper. However, she tore the paper. She didn't want to use the scissors. She was very naughty, so Miss Chan punished her. She said, "You can't tear the paper. You should cut the paper carefully, understand?" Suddenly, the student cried. Miss Chan said, "You should not cry. You know you made this problem." This story tells us that Miss Chan really cares about her job, and she is a good teacher.

When Miss Chan was young, she studied well. Now, she always patiently teaches us when we do not understand some homework. She is very nice, and when we are quiet in the lesson, she gives us some sweets and prizes. We love her very much and think everyone should want her to be their class teacher.

Ghost Comes to Lee Kam Primary School ?

By Viann Lau (6C)

“Wow! It’s very scary, the toilet has a ghost!” cried the pupils from 4/F. Why did they say this? It was because water was coming out of the tap, but no one had touched it. The door was locked, but no one was inside.

On the 12th of January, some pupils from 4/F went to the toilet during recess. After a few minutes, they all screamed loudly and ran out quickly. It was very strange. When I asked them what happened, they all cried out one word, “GHOST”! I felt frightened, but I was curious, so I went into the washroom.

I was shocked after I went into the washroom. I saw water coming out from the tap. Then, I went to the door inside the toilet. I tried to open it, but I couldn’t. I cried, “Is anyone here inside the toilet?” but no one answered me. I was scared and ran out of the washroom.

After recess, the students told Miss Wong about the experience. She told us that it was not a ghost! On that day, some workers had come to fix the toilet, but maybe they had not finished. The door wasn’t locked. There were some naughty pupils who used some coins to lock the door. “There are no ghosts in the world!” she said.

Now the ghost story is finally cleared up.

could see some cows there, and they learned about how people lived in the past.

Students went back to the education excursion place to do their projects. After that, they sang songs because it was their last year in primary school. Some students cried. The teachers sang songs too. They were so excited because it was the first time they heard the teachers sing, especially Mr. Leung. Students were shocked that Mr. Leung was very kind and friendly. He sang very well! That night, students went to sleep quickly because they were very tired.

On the last day of the education excursion, students could do anything they wanted. They could play basketball, badminton or table tennis. There were a lot of things to play! After they had lunch, they went home by bus. They were sad because they wanted to play more. Some P6 students wish they had a time machine to go back to the 15th of February!

Reviews!

By Carman Or (5A)

Last month, I went to a restaurant called Watami Japanese Casual Restaurant. It is in Tai Po, and I went there on a Sunday to have dinner with my family. It serves Japanese food, but also serves some Italian food. They have sushi, sashimi, rice, noodles and Italian pizza. They also serve cold drinks. Because I went there with my family, and we were 10 people, so we could taste all of the food. My favourite was the salmon sushi because it tasted like butter.

I recommend that people go there because it serves cold and hot food, and the food is yummy. The lighting is soft, and the place is clean. The waiters are polite too. It is not expensive, but not cheap either. They have about fifty tables, but on the day I went, there were many people and we needed to wait for one hour. I recommend that you book a table two days before you want to go there because it is always very busy.

By Henry Tsang (4C)

Ocean Park is located in Hong Kong. This is a good place for people to visit and play, so people often go there.

I went there during the school holidays with my family, but the tickets were so expensive. There were many amusement rides, like bungee jump and coffee cups. They were very fun and interesting. In addition, we could also see the sea animal show. The animals were so cute! After that, we had afternoon tea. My father ordered a coffee, and my mother and I ordered lime soda. We had a very good time. Overall, it was the happiest day of my year so far, and I hope I can go there again.
